Sailing and Trekking The Aeolian Islands, from the Paths and the Sea

Curiosity and love for uncontaminated environments know no boundaries between land and sea. The Sailing and Trekking formula allows you to enjoy both the pleasure of an excursion in nature and the charm of sailing. In a succession of stages on foot and by boat, we will explore hidden bays that can only be reached by sea, but also the natural wealth of Mediterranean flora and fauna.

1st day - Departure

Boarding between 06:00 and 09:00 pm, welcome briefing, music and bubbly on board with Prosecco and Leonard Cohen.

2nd day - Panarea - Trekking duration 3/4 hours - medium difficulty

Disembarkation scheduled before 12:00 pm.

The most worldly of the Aeolian Islands, Panarea is a perfect mix of history, art, culture and worldliness, all elements that blend together to create a unique atmosphere. This enchanting island offers 3.5 square kilometers of beauty, enchantment, natural and cultural refinement. The coasts of the island of Panarea are as beautiful as the sea that caresses them; they highlight a tumultuous past of conquests and piracy that has marked the appearance of the island but also the temperament and traditions of the islanders. Free time for lunch.

TREKKING: An ancient path that leads from the small town to the top of the island (Pizzo del Corvo 400 m above sea level) with beautiful views of the tormented west coast. You walk among the low vegetation composed of cypresses, small shrubs of heather and mastic, brooms and other typical elements of the Mediterranean maquis. After reaching the summit you begin the descent on the other side in the direction of the ancient prehistoric village of Capo Milazzese and the picturesque bay of Calajunco. Free time for dinner, music and bubbly on board with Prosecco and Teddy Smims.

3rd day - Vulcano - Trekking duration 3/4 hours - medium-easy difficulty

Disembarkation scheduled within 12:00 pm.

Vulcano, among all, is the island that refers to that ideal relationship between man and the primordial nature, the desire to feel perfectly part of a nature that has in itself everything that is necessary for the psychophysical well-being of the man. The volcano dominates the island, it watches over it like an old guardian, heir to the mythological charm given to it by the Greeks and Romans who, because of its presence, called the island "warm land" (Terasia). The black sandy beaches are very suggestive and the bay of Gelso, with its lighthouse, is a little frequented stop for an enchanting swim, because it is difficult to reach from land. Free time for time.

TREKKING: The Vulcano as everyone imagines it. An excursion that leads to the edge of the Gran Cratere (390 m a.s.l.), a landscape that arouses emotions that change constantly, from the beauty of the landscapes to the power of nature that comes out of every fracture or mouth reminding us that the volcano is still alive. The view?! A perfect picture of sky and sea, whose colours blend with the other six islands; you can also admire the mighty volcano of Stromboli that seems to send smoke signals to visitors looking at it from the opposite peak. Free time for dinner, music and bubbly on board with Prosecco and Orson Welles.

Eolian Islands

Pollara - Arco Naturale of Punta Perciato

Disembarkation scheduled within 10:00 am.

An uncontaminated sea, surreal silences, fascinating sunsets that seem to fade into the sea, colours, scents and flavours give this island a unique dimension. Salina is the "garden" of the Aeolian Islands, far from the light of the spotlights, shy to the frenetic rhythms of modern life, it is a welcoming green oasis that enchants for its lush nature and its traditions jealously guarded by the islanders. Massimo Troisi chose it to shoot, in the bay of Pollara, some scenes from the film "The Postman". The village of Santa Marina Salina is very characteristic and is worth a visit as well as the other small towns that are in other parts of the island, Malfa and Lingua. Free time for lunch.

TREKKING: The classic excursion for those who want to enjoy a trekking in Salina. The Monte Fossa delle Felci, the roof of the Aeolian Islands. An ancient volcano extinguished for centuries, covered by thick Mediterranean maquis characterized by cysts, heather, arbutus, mastic and brooms. The entire reserve is criss-crossed by a network of pathways giving the possibility to reach the summit (962 m a.s.l.), from different parts of the island. Our itinerary starts from Valdichiesa (300 m above sea level), a fertile valley in the centre of Salina. The path begins to climb up the side of the mountain offering glimpses of the entire Aeolian archipelago, the numerous vineyards and the other great peak of the island, Monte dei Porri.

Free time for dinner, music and bubbly with Prosecco and Jonathan Roy.

5th day- Lipari - Trekking duration 3/4 hours

-medium difficulty

Disembarkation scheduled before 12:00 pm.

The island represents the right compromise between comfort, leisure and natural beauty. It is the largest island of the whole Aeolian archipelago and for this reason it is considered more "citizen-friendly". Full of small shops, bars and restaurants, you can walk around it with a nice walk from Marina Lunga to Marina Corta, the other small port. A swim at Pumice Beach is a must. The sand is so clear that the sea is transparent. It looks like the boat is suspended over the water and you can even see the soles lying on the bottom! Free time for lunch.

TREKKING: The quarries of Kaolin. It is one of the most suggestive paths on the island of Lipari. The ancient kaolin quarry with its iridescent colours, still active fumaroles and unspoilt nature is located on the western coast of Lipari. We will start from here to follow a path that winds through canyons, cliffs and ancient cultivations until we reach the "ex Terme di San Calogero".

Free time for dinner, music and bubbly with Prosecco and Sam Smith.

6th day- Stromboli - Trekking duration 5/6 hours

-medium-high difficulty

Disembarkation scheduled within 12:00 pm.

High cliffs broken by small beaches of black sand alternating with coves and caves, white Mediterranean houses, green palm trees, olive trees, citrus fruits that rest on a rugged and fascinating volcanic cone secluded in a deep blue sea. This is the black pearl that has always attracted the lovers of uncontaminated nature . “Iddu”, an incredible volcano overlooking the sea, always in activity, bubbles giving a suggestive and unique spectacle that reaches its apex during the night with explosions and launches of lapilli in a thickly starry sky that is the background. Free time for lunch.

TREKKING: Trekking in Stromboli is definitely synonymous with “Climbing to the Crater”. Going up the flanks of the volcano and hearing its rumbling. Arrived at the top (900 m a.s.l.), maybe with the sun almost setting, you can see a unique show that “Iddu” gives every day to those who want to live an exclusive and unforgettable experience. Free time for dinner.
